

Contents

1 Introduction - From urban renewal to sustainable regeneration	11
1.1 Introduction
1.2 Rotterdam – Decades of measures to combat decay
1.3 The policy debates and changing contexts
1.4 The structure of this book
2 The sustainable city - Theoretical background	23
2.1 Introduction
2.2 Urbanisation and sustainable development
2.3 Sustainability and economic development
2.4 Sustainability and social development
2.5 Urban regeneration and housing provision
2.6 Sustainable urban area development
2.7 Conclusion
3 History of urban renewal, urban regeneration and housing provision in the Netherlands	63
3.1 Introduction
3.2 From slum clearance to urban regeneration
3.3 Developments in Dutch social housing policy before 1990
3.4 Privatisation in the 1990s
3.5 Conclusion
4 Urban renewal and urban regeneration in the Dutch contexts	79
4.1 Introduction
4.2 Urban regeneration and sustainable development
4.3 Sustainability in a changing economic context
4.4 Sustainability in a changing social context
4.5 Housing provision from 'merit good' to privatised mode of consumption
4.6 A changing context for sustainable neighbourhood development
4.7 Conclusion
5 Urban renewal and urban regeneration in Rotterdam	105
5.1 Introduction
5.2 Evolution of urban renewal and housing policies
5.3 Before 1974 - The case for urban renewal
5.4 1974-1993
5.5 Reflections on the 'building for the neighbourhood' period
5.6 From the 1990s onwards: Urban regeneration
5.7 Conclusion

6	Development of the physical qualities of housing and the residential environment in Rotterdam's Oude Noorden area	133
6.1	Introduction
6.2	The quality of the Oude Noorden area before urban renewal
6.3	Changes in quality in the Oude Noorden area produced by urban renewal 1975-1993
6.4	The results of urban renewal
6.5	From the 1990s onwards: Urban regeneration
6.6	Conclusion
7	The Oude Noorden area – Social and economic aspects	163
7.1	Introduction
7.2	Developments in the compositions of the population before urban renewal
7.3	Social structure objectives of urban renewal
7.4	Housing allocation
7.5	Realisation of population objectives
7.6	From the 1990s onwards: Urban regeneration
7.7	Conclusion
8	Features of sustainable urban renewal and neighbourhood development	183
8.1	Introduction
8.2	Criteria for sustainable urban renewal
8.3	Assessment of the urban fabric and urban design
8.4	Avoiding exclusion: Confidence in the neighbourhood
8.5	Socio-economic prospects
8.6	Added economic values
8.7	Urban planning: strategic area approach
8.8	Conclusion
9	Sustainable urban renewal	223
9.1	Introduction
9.2	Changing contexts
9.3	Strategic planning
9.4	Perspectives on sustainable development
	References	233
	Index	245